Update: Fischer Fire in Chelan County

LEAVENWORTH - Firefighters keep making progress over the last two days battling the 16,379-acre Fischer Fire, which is burning 4 miles southeast of Leavenworth.

Of the 760 residences affected by evacuation notices, 300 residences are being protected by structure protection crews. Containment of the fire remains at 30%. Sustained winds of up to 10 mph are predicted for today, with stronger winds forecasted for this evening (15 to 25 mph). The flow will still be out of the northwest, with up-slope/up-canyon winds during the day and down-slope/down-canyon in the evening. Temperatures will remain in the mid 90's. Fire activity may increase, due to a weak inversion last night.

The Red Cross continues to operate shelters in Cashmere and Wenatchee. There will be a public information meeting at 6 p.m. tonight at the Cashmere High School.

Nine task forces from Clark, Thurston, Mason, Kitsap, Pierce, Snohomish and Skagit counties are on the scene with 45 engines/tenders and 125 firefighters assigned with structure protection. This brings the total number of firefighters to 1,780, 113 engines, 37 water tenders, 22 dozers, and 11 helicopters

UPDATE: FISCHER FIRE

LEVEL 1: Easy Street from School Street, Merry Canyon - between Chumstick and Dry Creek, Moon Canyon, Railroad Canyon, Old Sunset Highway, American Fruit Road at Easy Street to Knolls road where it intersects School Street and then north on School Street to the last residence, both sides (all north of Knolls/School Street intersection).

Chelan County uses the following system for evacuations:

Level 1: This is an initial notification in person to inform the residents of the situation, and the process which may follow.

Level 2: People are requested to consider leaving the area, or be ready to leave at a moments notice due to the high possibility of the fire reaching the area. Access back into the area may be limited at this point. This may be the only notice you receive.

Level 3: The fire is in the area, people are to leave immediately. Access to the area is restricted.

Washington State Patrol Chief Lowell Porter approved the Washington State Fire Mobilization Act for the fire on August 11th. The WSP's Fire Protection Bureau subsequently dispatched three interface task forces to provide structure protection at the Fischer Fire.
